CHIEF SCOUT'S AWARD

The Chief Scout's Award can be earned by any Scout, who in the judgment of their fellow Scouts and Scouters, exemplifies the principles of Scouting through their leadership, voluntary service to the community and outdoor skills.

The Award was inaugurated in September, 1973 by his Excellency, Governor-General Roland Michener C.C.C.M.M., C.D., in his capacity of Chief Scout of Canada. He had been greatly impressed by the many projects through which Scouts rendered service to others and helped to improve the natural environment, and he felt that such acts should be specially recognized.

The Award is in the form of a cloth badge and a certificate. The badge is awarded immediately upon completion of the requirements. The certificate is presented at a public ceremony.

To perpetuate his memory the Jack Cornwell Decoration (formerly the “Cornwell Scout” Badge) was instituted.
